

TERMINALS IN MOBILE WANTED BY McLAUGHLIN

PRESIDENT OF THE PENSACOLA, MOBILE & NEW ORLEANS CONSULTS WITH SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Although it will be late in the fall before he will be ready to take up the matter and bring it to a close, Henry McLaughlin, president and builder of the Pensacola, Mobile & New Orleans railroad, was in Mobile recently consulting with citizens regarding terminals in that city. The P. M. & N. W. is going ahead steadily, but surely, and Mr. McLaughlin expects to enter Mobile before the end of this year. Regarding his conference the Mobile Item says:

"A conference was held here today between President Henry McLaughlin, of the Pensacola, Mobile & New Orleans railroad, and a special committee from the Chamber of Commerce and Business League headed by J. Bester Robertson, relative to terminals for the road when it enters this city some time in the latter part of this year."

"The entire situation as to terminals was gone over but no definite action taken," President McLaughlin, regarding the new road said:

"Work is progressing satisfactorily, and just as soon as twenty-five miles more of road is built, I will be ready to do business with Mobile. I expect to have this completed by early fall. I do not think there will be any trouble entering Mobile when the time comes."

YOUNGSTER IS SPOKESMAN FOR WHOLE FAMILY

WHITE WOMAN AND THREE SMALL BOYS ARE ARRESTED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT AND EIGHT-YEAR-OLD BOY TAKES CHARGE OF THE SITUATION.

Ordinary minstrel shows are not in the class with the performance which occurred at the police station last night when a white woman and her three small boys were arrested on the charge of disorderly conduct and brought into the office of the desk sergeant.

The three boys gave their ages as eight, twelve and fifteen, respectively, but the star performer of the entire group was the eight-year-old youngster, who acted as spokesman for the crowd.

Before he got in the door, this youngster began to tell how the whole thing occurred, and, in a very authoritative manner, commanded the others to keep silent whenever they showed an inclination to "butt into" the narrative.

Meanwhile the woman was running around over the office imploring the desk sergeant, the newspaper reporter, the bond stander and everybody else around the station to let her go home, declaring she had not done a thing.

Finally the desk sergeant, who had inquired into the details enough to learn that it was a regular family row, decided that he would allow either the woman or the children to go home and keep the others until court, in order to keep them separated and to keep peace. As soon as the desk sergeant had announced his intention the eight-year-old boy spoke up and said: "Well, let the old woman go on home and let me and the boys stay here."

The suggestion of the youngster was accepted and the woman was allowed to sign her own bond and go home and it is probable that the probation officer will be given the custody of the boys at this morning's session of the recorder's court, as this is a case which has been occupying the attention of the police department for some time and is one in which it is thought that the mother is not a proper custodian of the children.

The arrest occurred in the western

CONDITION OF FLORIDA MAN VERY SERIOUS

GEORGE LANGFORD, SHOT BY NEGROES AT SOUTHPORT, IS IN HOSPITAL AT MOBILE IN CRITICAL CONDITION.

A special from Mobile to the Montgomery Advertiser says:

"The condition of George Langford, a former deputy sheriff of Washington county, Florida, who was brought here last night from Southport, Fla., suffering with a bullet wound, is considered quite serious tonight. On last Saturday he went to the home of a negro family by the name of Pate, and while there was caught by Pate and several other negroes and severely horse-whipped."

Langford returned on the following Monday morning and renewed the quarrel. On this occasion he was caught by the mother of Pate and held as a target for her son who fired three shots into Langford's body. Pate made his escape, but later was captured by a posse, and after being wounded, was landed in jail at Vernon, Fla."

PLAGUE CASES AT SAN JUAN W. D. UPSHAW BY MILTON MEN

BILL OF HEALTH ISSUED AMERICAN SCHOONER SHOWS FORTY-ONE CASES AND TWENTY-SEVEN DEATHS THERE.

According to the bill of health issued the American schooner Margaret B. Rouss, by the American consul at San Juan, when the vessel took her departure, there have been forty-one cases of bubonic plague and twenty-seven deaths in the Porto Rican port since the plague was discovered.

The bill of health was filed with the customs authorities at Pensacola yesterday when the schooner came over to the city after being released from the Santa Rosa quarantine station.

CLEMONS TAKEN TO BIRMINGHAM

MAN CHARGED WITH FORGERY IN THAT CITY ACCOMPANIED DETECTIVE WITHOUT REQUISITION.

Accompanied by Detective Williams, of the Birmingham police department, J. L. Clemons, the white man arrested by Chief of Police Sanders a few days ago on the charge of forgery left at noon yesterday for Birmingham, he having waived the right of requisition and agreed to go back with the officer.

Clemons is said to have admitted to the Birmingham officer and to the police here that he is guilty of forging four checks in Birmingham, the total amount of the forgeries being about $140.

It is also believed that Clemons is wanted in other cities, as soon after he was arrested Chief Sanders received a telegram from the Pinkerton agency inquiring about him.

WAS ACCOSTED ON STEPS OF COURT HOUSE, CURSED, ABUSED AND CALLED UNPRINTABLE NAMES, SAYS GAZETTE.

Yesterday's issue of the Milton Gazette contained the following account of an attack on Hon. W. D. Upshaw, of Georgia, following a lecture he delivered in Milton:

"Hon. Will D. Upshaw, lecturer, speaker and editor of the Golden Age, from Georgia, was here Friday night and spoke to a large and appreciative audience at the court house."

"The subject was 'John and His Hat' and he handled his theme in masterful manner."

"After the speaking a number of ladies insisted on him staying over and speaking again Saturday, which he did, taking for his subject at this lecture, 'Rattlesnakes, Polecats and Blind Tigers.' The court house was crowded at this speaking, and Mr. Upshaw did full justice to the subjects discussed. Evidently, however, some of his remarks went to the spot, as he informed the writer that he was accosted at the steps of the court house door by two or three men, who proceeded to curse him, calling him several unprintable names. This uncalled for insult caused much excitement for a short while, as the good people resented the attack on Mr. Upshaw."

"Such scenes and actions as this only make the dry vote in this county larger than it would have otherwise been, but even the anti crowd do not uphold this kind of an affair, and the good citizens irrespective of their views as to local option, are going after it good and strong. Mr. Upshaw is a cripple, having to use crutches to walk since childhood."

"We had the names of the parties who did the above stunt, but a letter from Mr. Upshaw Wednesday morning requested us not to publish the names, and in deference to his wishes we omitted them from the account given above. And, in fact, we are glad to do this, for they are all good men, but

TWELVE MORE TAGLESS DOGS ARE CAPTURED

EVEN ONE HUNDRED HAVE BEEN CAPTURED BY DOG CATCHER SINCE HE BEGAN WORK ON THE FIRST OF MONTH.

Even one hundred was the mark reached by the dog catcher last night. This official began work on the first of the month and has averaged a dozen or more dogs per day ever since he started. Yesterday he captured an even dozen of the canines whose owners had not paid the license and secured the necessary tags.

The "hound" dawg tune" does not deter the official from performing his duty for, although he does not kick 'em around, he takes charge of hounds and all other kinds of "dawgs" that he happens to see running around the streets without tags on. Of course, every now and then he is called pet names and the owners of the tagless canines inform him that he's "gotta quit kickin' their dawgs around," but he continues to enforce the law and to add to the number impounded at the police station.

METHODIST COLLEGE.
An example of the progressive spirit which prevails in Cottondale is the pledging of ten thousand dollars by the people of this community to help erect a Methodist college to be located here. This was all the church asked and the college will probably be built without delay, though there are other points which have asked that it be located elsewhere.
